

SEASONAL WARNING

No! I cannot spare the time;
It's only a sudden chill
There is so much to do,
No time to be feeling ill.

Now I am in my bed,
Watery eyes and aching head.
My complexion in the mirror is not very charming,
As for coughing, that is most alarming.

So when I recover,
And I sincerely hope I do.
It's straight to the doctor and get that jab, FOR FLU.
